"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

WOMAN'S BODY IN TRUNK.

What is apparently the most brutal murder committed in northern New York since the famous Sacketts Harbor tragedy, in which two women were killed and for which George Allen is now serving a life sentence in Auburn prison, was discovered late yesterday in the manufacturing village of Brownville, four miles west of Watertown. The victim in this case was Mrs. Sarah Brennan, wife of Patrick Brennan, a paper maker and a highly respected resident of the little place, in which she had lived nearly all of the fifty-five years of her life. The body of Mrs. Brennan, frightfully hacked with an axe and the skull crushed in, was found tightly packed in a large trunk at her home. Near the trunk a bloody axe was found.

According to the police, the murder was done in a hotel formerly known as the Barton House, which is near the Brennan home. The motive, the police allege, was robbery.

The Brennan home, which was in the wife's name, was, according to the county records, transferred on October 1 last to James Farmer and his wife, neighbors of the Brennans for the consideration of $2,100. Brennan alleged that he was not a party to the transfer, and further, that his wife had denied to him that she had executed such a deed.

On Thursday last Mrs. Brennan disappeared, and the same day the Farmers sought posession of the Brennan home. When Brennan objected he was directed to the county clerk's office. On Saturday he examined the records and found that a deed had been executed as Farmer stated.

Meantime Brennan had instituted an unsuccessful search for his wife. When he discovered that their home had been transferred he called upon the neighbors and a systematic hunt for the woman was begun. Every bit of the country about the village was gone over, and hope of finding Mrs. Brennan had been almost abandoned when a further search of her home was suggested.

This was made so thoroughly as to result in the breaking open of the trunk in which the body was found.

Mrs. Farmer has made a confession, in which she first said she committed the deed, and later said her husband did it. Mrs. Farmer says it was her intention to have put quick-lime on the body.

Farmer would not talk, and Mrs. Farmer denied knowledge of the crime until she was taken to the trunk and asked why she did it.

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold in Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N. Cornell, Ecding, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

DAMAGE BY CYCLONE.

News has just reached Suffolk, Va., of a cyclone which swept over an isolated portion of Nansemond county, near Holland, Saturday night, doing great damage to property and seriously injuring three persons. The list of injured may be increased when full details are received.

The residence of Dempsey Howell, a few miles south of Holland, was completely demolished, together with the stables and outbuildings. Some of the timbers were carried a mile by the cyclone. A large number of cattle and horses were killed.

The members of the Howell family had a narrow escape from death. When the cyclone struck the house Mrs. Howell and three children were inside. Part of the house and the floor on which they stood was carried eighty feet and then overturned. A daughter was seriously bruised, but two sons escaped unharmed, Mrs. Howell was rendered unconscious, but will recover. Mr. Howell was in the yard and was struck by flying timbers. His condition is reported as critical. No piece of furniture was left whole. There were several hundred dollars in gold in the house, but most of this was recovered from the debris of the building, scattered over an acre of ground. The cyclone path was 200 feet wide. It seemed to rise into the air after leaving the Howell place, but dipped down two miles distant and carried away the chimney of the house of Mrs. Virginia Holland.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I brought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a linament. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Mr. Salyers is 114 years old, has been a justice of the peace for fifty years, shaves himself, rides horseback with as much ease and enjoyment as any one, and reads without the aid of glasses. For seventy-five years his hair has been flecked with gray, and for a number of years totally white, until a short time ago, when his hair began coming out, and a coal black crop is now coming in. He is also cutting a third set of teeth, a rare freak of nature. Mr. Salyers has been married twice, and his eldest son, Logan, who lives at Whitesburg, Ky., is eighty-five years old, and has within the last few years led the third bride to the altar, from which union there is a child not more than two years old.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, APR. 28, 1908

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT sent another message to Congress late yesterday afternoon outlining, if not insisting upon, a legislative programme, covering all the recommendations he has heretofore made and making some additional ones. Owing to the lateness of the hour at which it was received it was not read in either house. The message covers a great variety of subjects. The president lays greatest stress upon the necessity of increasing the power of the federal government over the great corporations engaged in interstate commerce. Even-handed justice is the theme of his discussion, and he urges opposition to lawless demands, whether they are made by the rich or those opposed to the rich. Accompanying the message is a report made to the city of Boston upon illegal combinations of steel corporations doing business with the city. The president declares in favor of a currency commission to thoroughly investigate conditions here and abroad, and recommends to Congress legislation that will place the currency system upon an efficient and permanent basis. Respecting the enlargement of the powers of the government over corporations, the president favors either the creation of a commission or the establishment of a bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor, to which shall be given authority to determine which combinations operate in restraint of trade to the disadvantage of the general public. Such a plan, he urges, is necessary unless a national incorporation law can be enacted.

SENATOR FORAKER, of Ohio, has been talking vigorously of late. In a speech before an assembly of negro Methodist bishops, he used language implying that he stood ready to bolt the republican party in case Taft or Roosevelt were nominated for the presidency. Speaking of Taft delegates from the South, he said: "They do not belong to my party, and I will not belong to theirs." He also spoke of the possibility of "new parties." On the 14th inst. Senator Foraker made a speech in the Senate on the Brownsville affair, in the course of which he severely criticised President Roosevelt and defended the negro soldiers whom the president drummed out of the army in disgrace without a trial. It was a bitter speech, and its effect on the negro vote in the States of the north and middle west may be to defeat the republican national ticket. These recent utterances of Senator Foraker show that the breach between himself and the Roosevelt faction is liable to be permanent, and that he may be expected to lead a movement at the polls against any man whom the Roosevelt faction may force upon the republican party.

IT is not necessary to pay the poll tax for 1908 in order to vote in the presidential election this fall. The taxes that must be paid on or before Saturday of this week are the taxes for 1905, 1906 and 1907. All voters should be certain that these three years are paid (provided they lived in the State and were old enough to owe them), but it is not necessary to pay the 1908 tax, which is not yet due.

THE republicans have agreed that the next census shall cost $14,000,000, which is, at least, double what it should cost. What is the good of lumbering up the census with a lot of answers to questions that are useless?

SPEAKER CANNON and other republican leaders grin with delight as their followers vote against the president.

SOME one calls Taft Roosevelt's policyholder. That seems to be the case with nearly all of Roosevelt's office-holders.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., April 28.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, and Counsel Wool, representing the Jamestown Exposition Company, appeared before the Senate committee on naval affairs today in behalf of the bill that has been introduced providing for the purchase by the government of the grounds of the exposition for use as a naval training station. A number of Virginians favorable to the project, were also present. The bill involves an appropriation of $960,000 besides the remission of almost an equal amount which constitutes the debt of the exposition company to the national government.

Chairman Fowler of the House committee on banking and currency, today defied the members of his committee and said they would be unable to reconsider the vote by which they tabled the Vreeland financial bill. He issued the defiance in reply to a statement from Mr. Weeks of Massachusetts, that the vote would be reconsidered. "It will not be done this year, and that's all there is to it," said Fowler, warmly. Notwithstanding this, Mr. Weeks believes he can secure the action he wants. The House leaders are carrying on their plans to have the Vreeland bill adopted by a republican caucus and then passed by the House.

When the news of the Brooklyn social equality dinner reached the Capitol today, congressmen who discussed it said they could not believe that such a thing was possible in any part of this country. Representative Albert S. Burleson of Texas, one of the democratic leaders, made this comment: "I cannot believe that this thing happened. My sense cannot take it in. Such a performance is unbelievable, abhorrent and inconceivable. This is all the comment such a report deserves." Other southern democrats expressed themselves in similar terms.

"This is horrible," was the comment of Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, when he read the story of the dinner. "I would never have thought that in any white community in this country such a thing could have occurred. I regard it as a direct result of the White House dinner to Booker Washington, one of the greatest errors ever perpetrated by a president. The man who said regarding last night's dinner that it would work the negro race more injury than any event occurring in the north in years, spoke the truth. It is just such things as this which promote assaults on defenseless women in the south. In my opinion it is not so much the passion of the negro which leads him to rape and outrage, as it is the feeling that he wants to be the equal of the white man with all of his rights and privileges. That feeling is increased by such incidents as that in Brooklyn last night. Its worst effect will be felt in the south where it will undoubtedly result in making both the negro men and women more insolent and more dangerous to the community. That any decent white people could have lent themselves to such and exhibition passes my understanding. But, as I said before, I trace it all to that White House dinner the effect of which will yet be heard from in the future."

Representative George L. Lilley, of Connecticut, worn out by the strain of the investigation before the special House committee, appointed to sift his charges of corruption of congressmen by the Electric Boat Company, has gone to Old Point Comfort for a rest.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, April 28.

SENATE.

The president's message, which reached Congress late yesterday afternoon, but was not read, had its innings in the Senate this afternoon after the routine business had been disposed of. Not half a dozen senators read the printed copies, which were distributed, or listened to its reading, however, but this was said to be due to the fact that it had been made public before its reading to Congress.

HOUSE.

Calling upon Congress to pass an emergency currency bill, Mr. Lovering today addressed the House. He said that he would not have voted for the Aldrich bill, as it came from the Senate, but with the amendments incorporated in the Vreeland bill, he thought the House had a good enough measure before it and that it was a duty it owed to the business interests of the country to pass it. Every measure introduced would meet with opposition from the bankers, if the profit they could make under it is not so great as under some other measure. For this reason, he urged that Congress listen to the commercial interests rather than to the money lenders.

Half an hour after the House met today, Secretary Latta from the White House presented the president's message. As soon as the House convened, Mr. Watson, republican "whip" and gubernatorial candidate, slipped a cog.

"I ask unanimous consent that the president's message be now read," said Watson, getting the speaker's eye.

"The message has not yet been delivered," replied the speaker dryly, and the democrats laughed.

"You might give the speaker one that you got over in the Senate," suggested Mr. Fitzgerald, but Watson was willing to wait.

THE PAPER TRUST.

Evidence tending to show that there has been unity of action among paper mills, in the matter of fixing the price of paper, as well as an understanding that none of them shall sell to the customer of another; that contracts for paper could not be obtained for a period longer than one year, and that the mills had arbitrarily shut down or restricted their output was presented yesterday by Mr. John Norris, of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, before the select House committee which is investigating the price of print paper as affected by the tariff and the question of whether or not there is a combination in restraint of trade. Mr. Norris was the only witness, and he was on the stand the entire day.

There is a probability that at the conference to be held by the House republicans this week or early next week on the subject of currency legislation, consideration will be given the Stevens bill, placing wood pulp and print paper on the free list.

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was taken up in the House yesterday and three of the eight hours decided on for general debate were used.

In this time Mr. Tawney showed that the House had cut appropriations $110,000,000; Mr. Rodenberg, of Illinois, held the democratic record of the last few years up to ridicule and undertook to show that material progress had been made under republican rule. Mr. Marshall, of North Dakota, critized the Aldrich currency bill. Mr. Spight, of Mississippi, urged Congress to refund to southern States the $60,000,000 illegally collected in cotton taxes during the civil war. Mr. Shakelford, of Missouri, took republicans generally to task, and specifically critized the shortage in the St. Louis subtreasury.

In a speech Minority Leader Williams said that the democratic filibuster would continue until the House decided to consider the campaign publicity bill, a bill putting print paper on the free list and the anti-injunction bill.

Charges Against the Japanese.

London, April 26.—English residents of the far East have stirred up the British government to investigate Japanese activities in China, Korea, Manchuria and in Oriental waters. Considering that the inquiry practically amounts to a questioning of the midado's good faith in the fulfillment of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, the development assumes a decidedly grave aspect.

News of the Day.

The condition of former President Grover Cleveland is slowly improving.

John H. Olcott, one of the most prominent Masons of Washington, died last evening.

Senator and Mrs. Tillman will sail from Boston for Europe May 16, and will remain abroad throughout the summer.

A beautiful battle of flowers at Santa Barbara, Cal., yesterday, was participated in by the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet.

A boiler exploded today on the battleship Britannia at Portsmouth, England. Several were injured. Details of the accident are lacking.

It is said that Judge Gray, of Delaware, has declined a position as head of a New York life insurance company at a salary of $200,000 a year, because he says no man should receive a higher salary than the President.

Mehmed Ali Bey, the Turkish Minister, yesterday presented to the President a magnificent rug, the gift of the sultan. The rug, which is said to be of an exclusive design, was made at the sultan's private factory, near Constantinople.

The Secretary of the Treasury has announced a further call on the national banks for approximately $45,000,000, $20,000,000 to be paid on or before May 9 and the remaining $25,000,000 on or before May 23, 1908. The amounts called will be based largely on a percentage of the deposits.

Producing a steamer trunk filled with vouchers, Franklin Pierce, prosecuting counsel, yesterday, made the allegation that he would show that many of the court employes in New York city were in the pay of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and that District Attorney Jerome had not only failed to push charges of jury-fixing and bribery, but had throttled prosecution.

On recommendation of Samson Lachmse, who was appointed referee to take testimony, Supreme Court Judge McCall in New York yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of absolute divorce to Alfred E. Dieterich, of Richmond, Va., from Edna Young Dieterich. The decree gives the custody of 6-year-old Grace D. Dieterich to the father and the mother is enjoined from interfering with the father or child.

Struck by lightning, Miss Jennie Martin, nineteen years old, of Bird-in-Hand, near Lancaster, Pa., lives to joke over her experience. In the excitement of closing a door at the barn of her father, Abram Martin, she was struck by a bolt which tore off every particle of clothing and ripped her shoes to tatters. Stunned for a short while, she recovered, to find her only injury a slight blistered line on her arm and body. A mouth organ she carried in one hand was cut in half. Her father, in attempting to raise the girl after she was struck, was knocked down, so heavily was her body charged with electricity.

Virginia News.

The herring-packing season is on in full at Hague now. An increasing number of farmers are packing their own fish, believing they get it better done than is commonly the case at the wholesale packing houses.

In Georgetown yesterday Georgetown defeated Virginia for the second time this year, by a score of 2 to 0. Georgetown and Virginia meet in the final game of their series this afternoon on Georgetown Field.

The United States Government has sent its check for $6,500 to Mr. St. George R. Fitzhugh for the Haydon lot, in Fredericksburg. This is the site for the new public building to be erected there by the government, for which $40,000 was appropriated at the last Congress.

Prostrated over the hopeless condition of her son, Mrs. Mary Fletcher Duffee, aged sixty-three years, suffered a stroke of paralysis and died in Norfolk Sunday. Nine hours after the death of his mother, Walter N. Duffee, the son, twenty-nine years old, died in the same house.

Governor Swanson is receiving a great many letters from the counties of Princess Anne and Isle of Wight and some from the city of Norfolk asking that Judge B. D. White, of Princess Anne, be named as the successor of the late Judge Richard E. Byrkin, whose death occurred last week.

Seeing his baby die less than two weeks ago when proper nourishment would have saved its life, brooding over his financial troubles and unable to meet his creditors when they made their calls, yesterday Max Lievowitz, a grocer of Newport News, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid at his home. He leaves a wife and four children.

Mr. T. Harry Ramey, clerk in the Fauquier National Bank of Warrenton, and Miss Matilda C. Klager of Ann Arbor, Mich., were married in Washington Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the Raleigh Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Ramey left immediately after the ceremony for Virginia Hot Springs where they will remain ten days, when they will return to Warrenton, their future home.

The new armored cruiser North Carolina left the yards of her builders, at Newport News, yesterday morning, reached the Norfolk yard yesterday afternoon and was turned over to the government, after having been under construction for three years. She will be placed in commission in a few days. The North Carolina is considered the fastest armored cruiser in the navy.

After bidding his two little grandchildren an affectionate "good night," J. W. Gosney, about 75 years old, a Confederate veteran, took an overdose of morphine at the home of his son-in-law, John D. Logan, in Danville Sunday night, dying from the effects yesterday morning. Mr. Gosney asked the children to sleep with him Sunday night, and they awoke yesterday morning to find him unconscious. An empty phial beside the bed told the story of self-destruction.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 28.—The strength of the market which was most prominent yesterday in Union Pacific and St. Paul extended to other leading railroad issues this morning and in the first hour the half dozen most important railroad issues made material gains, some of them making near high record for the year. At the end of the hour the industrials showed slight declines.

ANOTHER MESSAGE.

President Roosevelt sent another message to Congress yesterday evening. The message was not read, however, until today. In the main the document is a recapitulation of other messages which have recently been sent in by the executive.

Among other things Mr. Roosevelt says that while the employers' liability law which has been enacted comes short of what should have been done, it nevertheless represents an advance.

The President again recommends the enactment of a child labor law in the District of Columbia; the continuance of the waterways commission by providing sufficient financial support to render its work effective; means to be provided for carrying out the important features of the Hepburn law; the establishment of forest reserves throughout the Appalachian Mountain region; abridgement of the powers of injunction; protests against what he calls "class consciousness;" also against demagogues and foolish socialistic visionaries;" the the strengthening of the anti-trust law.

The president gives a resume of interstate legislation, and among other things says: "Power should unquestionably be lodged somewhere in the executive branch of the government to permit combinations which will further the public interest; but it must always be remembered that, as regards the great and wealthy combinations through which most of the interstate business of today is done, the burden of proof should be on them to show that they have a right to exist. No judicial tribunal has the knowledge or the experience to determine in the first place whether a given combination is advisable or necessary in the interest of the public. Somebody, whether a commission, or a bureau under the Department of Commerce and Labor, should be given this power. My personal belief is that ultimately we shall have to adopt a national incorporation law, though I am well aware that this may be impossible at present Over the actions of the executive body in which the power is placed the courts should possess merely a power of review analogous to that obtained in connection with the work of the Interstate Commerce Commission at present. To confer this power would not be a leap in the dark; it would merely be to carry still further the theory of effective governmental control of corporations which was responsible for the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and for the enlargement of its powers, and for the creation of the Bureau of Corporations."

The president enters into an exhaustive review of national and State legislation on interstate commerce lines, and he makes certain recommendations which he thinks may bring about better relations between capital and labor.

In concluding the president says:

"Among the many kinds of evil, social, industrial, and political, which is our duty as a nation sternly to combat, there is none at the same time more base and more dangerous than the greed which treats the plain and simple rules of honesty with cynical contempt if they interfere with making a profit; and as a nation we can not be held guiltless if we condone such action. The man who preaches hatred of wealth honestly acquired, who inculcates envy and jealously and slanderous ill will toward those of his fellows who by thrift, energy, and industry have become men of means, is a menace to the community. But his counterpart in evil is to be found in that particular kind of multi-millionaire who is almost the least enviable, and is certainly one of the least admirable, of all our citizens; a man of whom it has been well said that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign princess; whose nominal pleasures are at best those of a tasteless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work, is the accumulation and use of power in its most sordid and least elevating form. In the chaos of an absolutely unrestricted commercial individualism under modern conditions, this is a type that becomes prominent in the physical chaos of the dark ages. We are striving for legislation to minimize the abuses which give this type its flourishing preminence, partly for the sake of what can be accomplished by the legislation itself, and partly because the legislation marks our participation in a great and stern moral movement to bring our ideals and our conduct into measurable accord."

BUT TWO BATTLESHIPS.

By a vote of 50 to 23 the Senate yesterday afternoon refused the "demand of the president, made upon his responsibility as commander-in-chief of the navy," for four battleships. The 23 senators who supported the president were the "colts," as they call the young republican senators supported by four democratic senators—Messrs. Owen of Oklahoma, Taylor of Tennessee and Paynter and McCreary of Kentucky.

More important than the defeat of the proposition to build four battleships this year, for that defeat has been foreseen, was the authoritative statement that hereafter this country will have a naval "programme." Hereafter this country will build two battleships each year. At the close of the general debate Senator Allison stated that he favored building two battleships this year and two more hereafter each year, and this statement was indorsed and repeated by Senators Hale and Aldrich, so that the construction of two new battleships each year will be the future naval policy of this government.

While hot and angry discussion was in progress Mr. Latta, one of the clerks from the White House, appeared at the door with a message from the president. Ordinarily all business is interrupted to receive a message from the president. Whether Mr. Fairbanks believed that Latta bore a message from Mr. Roosevelt making one last desperate appeal to the Senate to grant him four battleships, and that he had chosen the eve of the vote as the psychological moment for its delivery, or what may have been the reason, at all events, the messenger from the White House was not received. He waited a moment or two and then with fine discretion withdrew to one of the cloakrooms. It developed subsequently that the message had no reference at all to the battleship dispute, but was an earnest call to the Congress not to adjourn without enacting some legislation which Mr. Roosevelt deems absolutely essential.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Centennary Celebration.

New York, April 28.—This was the big day of the establishment of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York and from far and near members of the faith were in attendance to do homage to the work that has been accomplished and to listen to the statistics showing how the poorest see in the world has advanced until the today it is the richest and also the leader in charity, philanthropy and education.

Two princes of the church—Cardinal Michael Logue, of Ireland, and James Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, a dozen of archbishops, half a hundred bishops and monsignors and priests of lesser degree to the number of more than five hundred were the chief actors in today's proceedings.

The feature, of course, was the high pontifical mass celebrated in St. Patrick's Cathedral by Cardinal Logue and at which Cardinal Gibbons preached the sermon. Long before ten o'clock, the hour set for the doors of the big Cathedral to open, an enormous crowd besieged the big edifice. It did not take long to fill the church, and, by order of the fire department, all doors were closed and none were permitted to enter or leave until the services were ended.

But the crowd outside had its patience rewarded through witnessing the most magnificent parade of church dignitaries ever seen in America. From the archbishopric residence to the church all of those who participated marched headed and flanked by a guard of police. There were in fact two processions. In the ordinary routine of church procedure Cardinal Gibbons would have ranked and Cardinal Logue would have had the position of honor, which, by church usages, is the rear, but he waived this right in honor of the visiting cleric, who is the head of the See of St. Patrick, and there were two separate processions, although but a short distance apart.

Cardinal Gibbons was attended by Archbishop Falconio, apostolic delegate; Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, and many others. Cardinal Logue was preceded by Archbishop Farley, of the archdiocese of New York, and all of the remaining visitors, including Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul. The Irish cardinal bore the crozier attired in a magnificient array of gold made by the White Sisters of St. Francis at a cost of $6,000. On the chasuble dalamatic was wrought in golden threads the stations of the cross.

Inside of the cathedral two thrones had been erected. The regular one was occupied by Cardinal Logue, while another and slightly smaller one was occupied by Cardinal Gibbons. The latter is not in the best of health, and showed this fact by his slow movements, although intellectually he seemed keener than ever before. The interior of the cathedral was decorated with the papal colors in white and gold, while outside the American colors flutterd in the breeze, the chief decoration being a magnificient large flag that hung suspended from a steel cable between the two steeples of the cathedral.

Following the mass the apostolic delegate read the papal benediction which was sent through him to Archbishop Farley and the Catholics of the diocese. It congratulated the church on its progress and was dated April 9

Among the many messages received by Archbishop Farley was the following from President Roosevelt:

My dear archbishop: Let me take occasion on the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the diocese of New York to extend to you my hearty congratulations and my earnest good wishes for the future of yourself and of your diocese.

Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Cardinal Gibbons opened his sermon with an historical review of the See of New York, showing the close relations between the church, He also praised Archbishop Hughes, to whom up until his death in 1864, he declared, was due the agitation for real education within the church. He further paid tribute to Archbishop Farley's predecessor, Cardinal McCloskey to whom more than any one else, he declared, was due the magnificent series of church edifices with in the archdiocese. The cardinal urged his hearer to take an active, loyal, personal interest in all that concerns the affairs of the country." As you all enjoy the protection of a strong and enlightened government" said he, "so should each man have a share in sustaining the burden of the common wealth."

Another Collision.

London, April 28.—Ramming the British destroyer Gala during night maneuvers off Kentish Knock in the North Sea early today, the scout cruiser Attentive cut the former craft nearly in two and killed Engineer Lieutenant Frank A. Fletcher, who was at his post in the destroyer just where the scout's prow struck. Before the two vessels could be disengaged the destroyer Bibble, unable to sheer off in time, plunged into the scout without damaging the larger craft, but crumpled her own bows like paper. The Gala, though kept afloat only by the utmost exertions, was towed into Sheerness today. The Bibble reached port under her own steam with two compartments full of water. It is not yet exactly clear how the accident occurred, but indications are that the Gala's navigator undertook to cross the Attentive's bows, miscalculated his distance in the darkness and was struck before she could get clear.

Securities Missing.

New York, April 28.—Financial circles were much stirred today over the report that $400,000 worth of securities, in which customers of the firm had a substantial interest, are missing from the assets of the big cotton, stock and grain house of T. A. McIntyre & Co., who failed last week. The receivers of the firm have failed to find the securities among the numerous strong boxes of the company, and no record of them appears in the list of loans with banks.

Silverstein Dead.

New York, April 28.—Selig Silverstein, the bomb thrower at the mass meeting held in Union Square a month ago, in which one person was killed and several injured, today died from injuries received from the premature explosion of the bomb. Yesterday it was believed that Silverstein would recover, but today he suffered a relapse and his death followed a few hours later.

White and Black Spirits Mingle.

New York, April 28.—A dinner was held in Brooklyn last night by the Cosmopolitan Society at which the negro question was discussed.

The spectacle of young white women, seated side by side with negroes, and the enthusiastic acclamation by all the diners of the proposition of intermarriage as a solution of the race problem has caused no little comment.

There were twenty white girls and women at the dinner. There was also a half dozen white men. The white girls sat for the most part between negro men and listened, some with interested attention, others with apparent indifference to a ratner literary discussion of miscegnation.

The incident of the dinner that is causing the most dissatisfaction among the negroes today is the fact that the name of Booker T. Washington, who advocates "peaceful resistance," was booed down and greeted with cat calls and hisses, while that of Dubois, who favors "exercising all rights under the constitution," was given a volley of applause.

Editor Holt, a white man, said: "Intermarriage if continued long enough," he shouted, smiling gracefully into the faces of his white feminine hearers "will solve the race problem. I do not believe the white man would be so anxious to marry the negro woman as would the negro man to marry the white girl. And if this is continued, the negro marrying the white woman, the dark race will gradually bleach."

Declaring that there is no such thing as social equality between white people and negroes, or even among negroes themselves, Rev. Madison C. Peters fondly explained why he took an abrupt departure from the dinner of the Cosmopolitan Club in Brooklyn last night when he entered the banquet hall and saw negro men and white women seated side by side and heard them engaged in discussion agitating the abolition of the race problem by a process of intermarriage.

Trouble Imminent.

City of Mexico, April 28.—With Honduran and Guatemalan troops concentrated along their respective borders and a Mexican force ready to invade Guatemala on short notice, United States Peace Envoy Buchanan's Central American mission seems destined to failure before it is even fairly begun. Just what has been the upshot of Buchanan's conferences here with President Diaz is not known. The general impression is that Mexico is sparring for time, preferring not to commit itself to a peace agreement until satisfied that it will not be embroiled in the threatened flare-up among the lesser republics to the southward. The immediate cause of the strained relations is Honduras's anger that Guatemala should have seized its finance minister in the latter country at the time of the attempt to assassinate President Cabrera on suspicion that he or his government was concerned in the plot. The quarrel has reached a stage where it is hard to see how hostilities can be avoided.

The French Alarmed.

Paris, April 28.—Alarmed by Tangier reports that Fez is virtually in the hands of fanatical Moslem bands who threaten the sacking of the foreign consulates, the French government is keeping every line of communication into Morocco hot with demands for definite information. The country is in such a state of confusion, however, owing to a renewal of activity by Hafid, the pretender to the crown, that nothing certain has yet been learned. There are seemingly well authenticated reports that Mulai is marching on Fez from the Cahula region, determined to wrest it from Sultan Abd El Aziz and establish his capital there.

Reports continue conflicting concerning the bandit Raisuli's fate, one being that he escaped though ambushed and fired on by tribemen with whom he refused to divide the reward for Kiad Sir Harry McLean. The general opinion is, however, that he was killed.

Conditions in Venezuela.

Willemstad, April 28.—The shooting by quarantine guards of several fugitives from La Guayra, Venezuela, is reported by arrivals from Porto Cabello.

The Venezulean government refuses to admit that bubonic plague is raging in the country, but following the closing of the port, a military line had been drawn about La Guayra, completely cutting it off from the rest of the world.

Deaths there from the plague are said to be averaging about ten daily and there are reports of several at Caracas. The disease is also known to be spreading rapidly. All houses where deaths occur are burned.

Prince de Sagan and Mme. Gould.

Rome, April 28.—That Prince Helie de Sagan and Mme. Anna Gould have arranged to be married in Paris in the near future and return here to live is asserted on excellent authority. The story is that they will leave here for Florence in a few days, go from there directly to the French capital and that the wedding will immediately follow.

TO CURE DANDRUFF.

It is Necessary That the Dandruff Germ Be Eradicated.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destroying the dandruff germ, and none other claims to be, for the simple reason that it is only recently that a destroyer of the germ has been discovered—Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation that actually kills dandruff.

Free Riding in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., April 28.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson's seven year fight for three cent fares was crowned with victory last night when the final papers were exchanged, transferring the operation of all lines to the Municipal Traction Company, organized by the mayor. Three cents fares are to be in effect in ten days and universal transfers in ninety days.

In celebration of traction peace all Cleveland is riding free today. For twenty hours, beginning at midnight, the fare registers are disconnected, and every man, woman and child can ride as often as he or she pleases.

MYSTIC SHRINERS.

Forty-five members were initiated into the Mystic Shrine at Harrisonburg last night at Rockingham Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons. The work of initiating the members was done by eighteen members of Arab Patrol of Acca Temple, of Richmond. There is but one temple in the state and that located at Richmond. Over 150 Shriners were in attendance, and they had a gala time all day. A big parade in the town was made by the Shriners' Arab Patrol, after which they gave a fancy drill on the public square, before about 4,000 people. After the initiation a banquet was served at the Kavanaugh, and covers for 200 were laid. Visiting Shriners came from Richmond, Washington, Alexandria, Front Royal, Winchester, Charleston, Staunton, Roanoke, Charlottesville, Clifton Forge, Lexington and other places.

TWELVE PERSONS DROWNED.

A dispatch from Helena, Ark., says twelve persons were drowned, one a woman, when the show boat Marion capsized eight miles above the mouth of the St. Francis river late Sunday. The Marion, a sixty-five-ton boat, left Helena Sunday afternoon, carrying members of a carnival company. About 3:30 the boat was struck by a storm and was capsized. The sixty-two passengers and members of the crew climbed on top of the overturned boat and the engineer and a negro set out for shore in a skiff. Waves capsized the skiff and both were drowned. Waves ten feet high swept the overturned boat, and many were washed from their hold, drowning before the eyes of their helpless companions.

SCHOOL BOARD.

At a called meeting of the City School Board held last night ten of the twelve members and the superintendent were present.

Capt. Bryant, the chairman, stated that the meeting had been called to hear the report of the special committee on the disposal of Peabody building and securing a site for a new building.

Dr. Smith from the special committee presented the following, which was adopted by a unanimous vote viz:

The special committee would recommend that the necessary steps be taken to transfer the Peabody school building to Messrs. Doniphan and Morrill and to secure the Brent property on Prince street, and would ask that authority be given said committee to close the deals.

Mr. Stabler reported that Mrs. E. C. Lewis had agreed to sell the Brent property on the north side of Prince street, between Patrick and Henry, to the School Board for $12,000.

Mr. Smoot asked if the finance committee of the City Council had been consulted concerning these matters.

Dr. Smith said the special committee had conferred with the finance committee of council and had been assured by the chairman of the latter committee that the School Board had the full assent of his committee which would stand behind the board in the matter of the new school building.

The Superintendent asked when would the purchasers of Peabody building take charge of that building,

Dr. Smith stated that possession would be surrendered about December 1st next. The Southern Railway Company, which now occupies the Brent property would lease from the new owners of Peabody building the rear part of that building for its offices. The schools recently removed from the third story of Peabody building would be moved back to that building and that to guard against accident a watchman would be employed there till the building was vacated.

Dr. Smith then presented the following:

Washington, D. C., April 25, 1908.

Mr. Wm. M. Smith,

Chairman Building Committee,

City School Board, Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: I have your letter of April 23rd, and in reply will say, directions were issued today to arrange for the re-lease of the present superintendent's headquarters at Alexandria and move to the location suggested.

Of course, it will take a few days to work this out, but I assure you there will be no undue delay. Yours truly,

C. H. ACKERT,

Vice President and General Manager.

Dr. Smith then said the school board committee had been most courteously received by the railroad officials, both here and in Washington, who have promised to do everything in their power to expedite the matter of the removal of their offices from the Brent building. He then presented the following which was adopted:

Mr. Chairman: The special committee would move that a vote of of thanks be tendered Mr. C. H. Ackert, vice president and general manager, and Mr. G. V. Peyton, superintendent of the Washington Division, Southern Railway for the valuable assistance they promptly and unselfishly rendered the School Board, and by which we were enabled to secure immediate possession of the most desirable lot in the city for the new school building.

The board then adjourned.

NEGROES IN A FIGHT.

Considerable excitement was caused in the southeastern section of the city about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a rough-and-tumble fight which started in a pool room on the southeast corner of Gibbon and Pitt streets. The combatants pushed their way into the street and with the crowd which had been attracted vied with the high southerly wind prevailing at the time in raising clouds of dust. The belligerents fought each other viciously, one armed with a knife chasing another to and fro followed by throngs of negroes. Police whistles were blown, while women picked up little children, ran into houses and closed the doors. Before the police could reach the scene the parties engaged in the fight had vanished. Officers Sampson, Garvey, Ferguson, Talbot, Arrington and Nicholson subsequently arrested Frank Jackson, Malvin Ross, Walter Meekins and James Dixon, the alleged principals in the affray. Jackson left $5 collateral for his appearance before the Police Court this morning, but he could not be found when the case was called. Ross was fined $10, and Meekins and Dixon $5 each.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Frank Jackson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear. Malvin Ross, colored, charged with a similar offense, was fined $10, and Walter Meekins and James Dixon, also colored, parties to the disturbance, was fined $5 each.

James Thornton, colored, charged with assaulting Hattie Grinnell, colored, was fined $5.

Three white men, charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed.

Mary Bates and Frances Sweeney, both colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $5 each.

Mary Pearson, colored, charged with assaulting a child of Eveline Porter, colored, was dismissed.

John Haskins, Pinkey Burnett and Bettie Mason, all colored, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each.

VICTIM AN ALEXANDRIAN.

Mrs. Annie E. Griffin, who, as stated in yesterday's Gazette, was shot and killed at her home in Curtis Bay, near Baltimore, last Sunday night, was a daughter of the late Captain John Lyons, of this city. Frank McIntyre, who is believed to have killed Mrs. Griffin, has been arrested. Several men boarded in the Griffin house, and most of them were in the house Sunday night when the murder was committed. McIntyre's motive is unknown. When brought into the court yesterday he seemed to be totally unconcerned regarding the serious charge urged against him. A little daughter of his victim testified that she heard the shooting and met McIntyre when he was leaving the house. The latter told the child he "had done it, and there was no use trying to aid her." The alleged murderer refused to make a statement when he was arraigned.

DEATH OF MR. MARBURY.

Mr. Addison Marbury, who was well known in this city, died at his home at Riverside, Md., on Sunday, aged 73 years. Mr. Marbury was a civil engineer and helped construct the old Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad, now the W. & O. branch of the Southern Railway. In 1872 he went to Costa Rica where he was division engineer of the Costa Rica Railroad and was in charge of the party of young men from this city and vicinity who engaged in the construction of that road. In 1874 he returned to his home in Maryland, but engaged in engineering work for some time afterwards. Of recent years he had lived on his farm in Maryland being one of the magistrates of Charles county. He leaves one son, Mr. Robert Marbury, of Riverside. His remains were interred today at Bumpy Oak Church, at Pomonkey, Md.

ACCUSED DISMISSED.

Among the cases in the Police Court this morning was that of three young men who were charged with disorderly conduct. A city employee who was indirectly referred to as the "gum shoe man" by a member of the Common Council several weeks ago appeared as plaintiff. The evidence was to the effect that the defendants had applied the distasteful epithet to the employee while he was in the discharge of his duty in endeavoring to ascertain who had placed a nuisance in an alley after it had been cleaned. The young men denied the charge made against them, and said they were endeavoring to attract the attention of another man and that their words were not intended for the city employee. The accused were dismissed with a gentle admonition to be more careful in future when the complainant is near them.

"COLEMAN'S PARK"

"Coleman's Park," in the square bounded by Gibbon, Franklin, Lee and Union streets, will be formally opened at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when several persons are expected to deliver addresses. W. J. Coleman, colored, who has been instrumental in constructing a stand and providing benches for the park will, he says, take for his text the "third chapter of Nebuchadnezzar, the man who owned the golden calf," and during his address he will elucidate the gold and silver standards. He will also make clear the origin of the negro. The meeting will close at 6:30.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Andrew J. Hudson, who died in Baltimore Sunday afternoon, took place this afternoon from the residence, 919 King street. Rev. Charles D. Bull, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and Rev. E. V. Regester conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs: Geo. W. Keys, Jos. F. Rodgers, N. S. Greenaway, J. G. Henshaw, D. Campbell and H. Priest.

W. C. T. U.

The board of managers of the Children's Home attended a reception yesterday at the White House given by the president to the Florence Crittendon workers.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday afternoon, as usual, at 3 o'clock at the Children's Home, on Duke street.

COLUMBIA FIRE COMPANY.

There was a well-attended meeting of the Columbia Fire Company last night at which the arrangements for the entertainment and banquet next Friday night were completed. The entertainment will take place in the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall and the banquet will be held in the meeting room at the engine house at 10:30 o'clock.

DEATH IN WESTMORELAND

Mr. Hamden Parker, brother of Mr. J. D. Parker, of this city, died at his home, in Westmoreland county, yesterday. He had many friends in this city, where he formerly lived, who will be grieved to learn of his death. His brother with his family left for Fredericksburg, this morning, where they will take the steamer for his old home.

PROPERTY SALES.

The Old Dominion Perpetual Building Fund Association has sold to Jennie O. Bell two houses and lots on the north side of Gibbon street, between Fairfax and Royal.

George A. Harrison has sold to Lena Hicks a house and lot on the south side of Wilkes street, between Pitt and Royal.

SENT TO GRAND JURY.

James Smith, colored, was taken before Justice Henry Parker, at Hall's Hill, Alexandria county, yesterday afternoon, on a warrant charging him with cutting Lucy West with a knife last Friday. The woman was stabbed in the side and abdomen. Her condition is said to be serious. Smith was held for the action of the grand jury.

DECREE OF DIVORCE.

Judge Thornton, in the Circuit Court for Alexandria county, has granted to Elizabeth G. Webb an absolute divorce from Andrew B. Webb, a patent attorney, with offices in Washington, on statutory grounds. The defendant filed an answer in his own behalf.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY

[Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding.]

We are brim full of spring novelties for man, woman and child. See our line of low shoes. J. A. Marshall & Bro 422 King street.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Wm. J. Boothe has returned from a visit to Delaplane.

Mrs. S. A. Wilkins, wife of Dr. R. L. Wilkins, is confined to her home on King street by sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Latham have returned from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, wife of the governor of Virginia, arrived in Washington yesterday and is the guest of Mrs. George T. Marye, of that city. Mrs. Swanson was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marye at the Paint and Powder Club performance last evening, and at supper afterward at the New Willard.

Mrs. N. P. T. Burke, who with her children has been visiting Mrs. John W. Burke, has returned to her home in Boston.

ANNOYED BY "GUIDES."

Complaints are still made by tourists who visit this city of the guide nuisance. Numbers of boys flock around electric trains and before passengers leave the cars insist that they be employed to act as guides. Yesterday some ladies who came to Alexandria from another city experienced so much annoyance from these enterprising youngsters that the visitors invoked the aid of a citizen who was passing at the time. The latter remonstrated with the boys, but the latter acted in an ill-mannered and defiant manner. The police have at times arrested boys who have persisted in annoying tourists, and others are liable to be taken into custody if the custom is continued.

SNAKE AT THE JAIL.

The city jail has at times been infested by rats, mice, roaches, earwigs and all varieties of vermin, and it now appears that snakes have also taken up their abode in the lockup. Yesterday afternoon Warden Candler discovered an ophidian, at least three feet long, on a front doorstep, it having crawled out of a crevasse in the wall. The warden lost no time in bruising its head with his heel, the reptile fighting him in the meantime. When this item shall have been read by some who spend most of their time in jail, they will doubtless attempt to keep out of that institution in future, as there is reason to believe other snakes are in certain portions of the antiquated structure.

ARM INJURED.

S. N. Morris, a car inspector at the Potomac railroad yards, had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injury yesterday afternoon. He was standing between two cars when they started to come together, and Brakeman Burks, who was standing nearby, realizing the inspector's dangerous predictment, caught him by the coat and pulled him far enough away to keep him from being crushed. Mr. Morris's left arm, however, was caught between the cars and painfully injured. He was brought to this city, where he was attended by Dr. Smith.

CORPORATION COURT.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

W. H. Compton vs. Adams Express Co., suit for damages for delay in delivering package; jury and verdict for plaintiff for $138.

The court granted 54 liquor licenses and held up four. Two of the applicants are not qualified voters; one had not complied with the new law in posting his premises and one was irregular.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The City Council meets tonight.

The barges Neb and Jennings, from Philadelphia, with coal for DeW. Aitcheson, have arrived.

The warm weather of the past few days passed away last night, and the weather today has been clear and much cooler.

A meeting of the Junior Local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held at St. John's Church, West End, tonight at 8 p. m.

People living on Wolfe street, between Lee and Union, complain of howling dogs that make night hideous. It is believed that the annoyance is caused by tramp dogs.

The Young Men's Senate at their meeting in the Young People's Building of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, tonight, will discuss the question of an increased navy.

W. A. Jenkins, who died in a Washington hospital last Sunday, resided in this city many years ago. He was a barber by profession and at one time worked with C. M. Griffin on Cameron street.

It is said that the Board of Fire Warders will ask Council to request the electric railway company to stop its trains at the intersection of King and Patrick streets, to prevent collisions with the Reliance fire engine. There was a narrow escape at that intersection a few nights ago.

Mr. Robert Travers will have Potomac shad and salt-water fish at his stand in the market tomorrow morning.

SEALED PROPOSALS, addressed to L. E. Uhler, Chairman of the Committee on Light, will be received at this office until 8 p. m., Thursday, April 30, 1908, for furnishing the Gas Works with THREE THOUSAND TONS (more or less) of GAS COAL (2,240 pounds to the ton), to be delivered in the sheds at the works trimmed and benched up, during the fiscal year commencing June 1 1908, and ending May 31, 1909, orders to be accepted by successful bidders any date after awarding of contract so that coal will arrive at the works on or before July 1, 1908.

The coal must be Monongah, Tryconnel, Youghiogheny, Montana, Fairmont, Lincoln or other gas coal or equal or superior yield and candle powder. Bidders can give their figures on all of the mines, and are requested to give candle power yield and analysis, per ton coal.

The committee reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Terms: Cash on 15th day of each month following delivery of coal.

By order of the Committee on Light.

The Home of Storms.

The waters of Cape Horn have never been unvisited by storms for more than a week or two at a stretch within the memory of man. Standing on the outposts of the world, Cape Horn is the meeting place of ocean currents of very different temperature, from the icy cold waters of the Antarctic drift to the warmth of the Brazilian and Peruvian return currents.

The prevailing winds are from the northwest and west, and these, coming from the warm regions of the Pacific, condense into fogs, which the sailors call "Cape Horn blankets" and which are the forerunners of storms. The extremely low level to which the glaciers of Tierra del Fuego descend, the perpetual congelation of the subsoil, the meeting of conflicting winds at very different temperatures, are all direct or indirect causes combining to make this the most constantly stormy region of the world.

In the "Coaching" Days.

An amusing story is told of the coach which used to run between Edinburgh and Berwick. A passenger complained bitterly that the cushion on which he sat was wet. It appears that there was a hole in the roof, and through it the rain was pouring copiously. The passenger called the guard and in great wrath reproached him. All the satisfaction he got, however, was the quiet and typical Scotch reply, "Ay, mony a ane has compleened aboot that hole."—St. James' Gazette.

Books in India.

In India the printed book is regarded as vulgar if not irreverent, and no devout Hindoo would allow his sacred writings to be contaminated by contact with leather prepared from the hide of some animal's dead body. A leather bound copy of the Bible is for him a remarkable illustration of Christian irreverence.—Churchman.

Pretty Black.

"What do you know of the character of this man?" was asked of a witness at a police court the other day.

"What do I know of his character? I know it to be unbleachable, your honor," he replied, with much emphasis.

Very Like a Bull.

Congressman Seedgraft was very green when he first came to congress. He began his maiden speech thus: "Mr. Speaker, I cannot sit still here and keep silence without rising and saying a few words."

When a distant relation becomes rich he is apt to become still more distant.

EUREKA!

Yes, I Have Found it at Last.

Found what? Why that Chamberlain's Salve cures eczema and all manner of itching of the skin. I have been afflicted for many years with skin disease. I had to get up three or four times every night and wash with cold water to allay the terrible itching, but since using this salve in December, 1905, the itching has stopped and has not troubled me.—Elder John T. Onley, Rootville, Pa. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Some Witty Titles.

The pupils of one of the high schools of Philadelphia evinced great interest in a competition for a prize to be awarded the pupil who should submit the wittiest list of titles for twelve sham books on a dummy shelf. The following are some of the titles received in the competition:

"A New England Puss," by M. E. W. "Thoughts On My Bed," Stead.
"On Different Tacks," by Van Hammer.
"Lizzie Wouldn't," by John Wood.
"The Fatal Blow," by John Knox.
Porter's "Tales of Lost Baggage."
"Lost In the Wash," by the author of "Bachelor's Buttons."
"Grinding the Poor," by Mill.
"Owe No Man," by O. W. Holmes.
"After the Ball," by the author of "Our National Game."
Morse on "Our Old Houses."
"Woodchucks and Rabbits," by Burroughs.
"E. E.," by the author of "My Double."

An Unconscious Meal.

Once John Muir, author and ranchman, was dining with a friend. They sat down, and Muir began to tell a story. The waiter came around several times, but the story was so good nothing was ordered. Muir talked and talked, and in between he would reach over and break off a piece of bread from a French loaf on the table. This he did a good many times. The story reminded him of another, and so he talked and ate bread until finally, being very hungry, his companion broke in with:

"Well, what shall I order for you, Mr. Muir?"

"Order?" he repeated in his abstraction.

"Yes, order—to eat."

He looked over at the last little remaining piece of bread on the plate and said, as if waking from a dream:

"Eat? Why, I've had all I want. That bread was bully."—Bookman.

An investment you wish to make, rest assured the safest investment you can possibly make is to deposit your money in the Savings Department of this corporation where it will earn 3 per cent. interest compounded twice a year. Your principal will then be always at your command and cannot depreciate in value. You can start an account with this corporation for $1.00 or upwards. If you have other investments in view isn't it advisable to have your MONEY MAKING MONEY while you are deciding this matter. There's many a $1 or $5 bill spent unnecessarily because it is carried in the pocket, when a savings account would have discouraged or prevented the expenditure. A bank account is not only a convenience, but a great encourager of economy, so why not commence right and open an account with us today. We invite you to do so and promise courteous and liberal treatment consistent with sound banking methods.
